

MORE MURDERS.

London Again Azog--The Police Admit Their Failure to Find a Clue to the Perpetrator.

Pope Leo Soliman--The Cause of His Jubilee by the Celebration of High Mass for the Dead.

The Emperor William's Letter to Queen Nialla Advising Her to Surrender the Crown Prince.

REKINDLED.

ANOTHER MUTILATED WOMAN.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Another mysterious murder has occurred in White Chapel. The body of a woman of the town, mutilated as in the previous cases, was found in Mitre Square to night.

It is also reported that another woman has been murdered in the same vicinity.

THE LATEST VICTIMS.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The two women found murdered near the scene of the former murder, in White Chapel, last night, have been recognized as dissolute characters who have long frequented that vicinity. One of them was found in Berner street with her throat cut from ear to ear; the other was discovered lying in Mitre square.

She, like the first mentioned victim, had her throat cut, but in addition she had been disfigured and her nose cut off. The murderer had evidently been disturbed in his work in Berner street, and had no time to mutilate the body of his victim. The discovery of the bodies completely paralyzed the police, and General Sir Charles Warren, chief commissioner, has at once ordered out of bed. He repaired immediately to the scene of the murders and gave orders to have the police force in that district strongly reinforced.

AN UNSOLVED MYSTERY.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The denizens of White Chapel are in a state of terror tonight owing to the horrible butcheries, the fourth of which, it was hoped and quite generally believed would be the last of the ghastly crimes. The police are positively helpless and their best admission of failure to find any clue whatsoever to the perpetrator of the terrible crimes only serves to add to the consternation of the unfortunate creatures whose calling as assassins made them the objects of the public's hatred.

The theories advanced as accounting for the murders and seeking to establish the identity of the murderer is positively bewildering, but none of them is accepted by the police as the correct one, although the Scotland Yard detectives have nothing more plausible to offer for themselves. The absolutely impotent condition of the police in the matter has led them, however,

IN THE WAY OF EVIDENCE WHICH IN ORDINARY cases would be secured by self-imparting burrows for dynamites and divers for parcels of sawcut. The most significant of these is a letter which was received at the office of the Central News company in Oxford street, and was dated on Thursday afternoon. The letter, which is written in a scrawling hand, is familiarly addressed "Dear Boss," and is signed "Jack, the Ripper."

After boasting that he committed all of the White Chapel murders, the writer threatened "if I were not wanted to start it again. The next job I shall do is of the lady's ear and send it to the police. Keep this letter back till I do a bit more work and then give it out to the police straight."

The remarkable feature of the Mitre Square murder is the fact that the case of the woman who was nearly severed, and this circumstance is held to indicate that the real murderer wrote the letter. Most of the newspapers issued special editions to-day, giving copious details of the tragedies and volunteering advice to the police, which they would not wait for the great crowd who visited the scene of the murder to-day and gazed at the blood-stained pavement with a degree of fascination difficult for the police to overcome in their efforts to keep the highways clear. The lodging house, Alway, etc., of the White Chapel district are being secured by the detectives to night.

THE SECOND MURDER.

The first murder occurred in a narrow street (at Berner street) at an early hour this morning beneath the window of the Portuguese Social club. A concert was in progress in the hall, and the noise and music were heard by the victim. The same process had followed as in other cases. The woman had been seized by the throat and her cries choked, and the murderer with one sweeping cut had severed her throat.

A criminal entering the court stumbled over the body, which was lying only two yards from the street. A stream of warm blood was flowing from the body into the gutter. The murderer had evidently been disturbed before he had time to mutilate his victim.

THE SECOND MURDER.

The second murder was committed three quarters of an hour later in Mitre square, five minutes past the scene of the first crime. Policemen patrol the square every ten minutes. The body of the unfortunate woman had been dismembered, and the blood was seen everywhere. The heart and lungs had been thrown aside and the entrails were twisted into the gaping wound.

The incisions show a rough dexterity. The work of dissection was evidently done with the utmost haste. Pending the report of the coroner, the police are endeavoring to secure portions of the viscera were taken away. The doctors after a hasty examination of the body said they thought it must have taken about five minutes to complete the work of the murderer, who then had plenty of time to escape the police. Mitre Square, the scene of the second murder, is a thoroughfare. Many people pass through the square early on Sunday morning on their way to prepare for market in the notorious peacock lane. The publicity of the place adds to the danger of the crime.

Dr. Backwell, who was called to view the remains of the Berner street victim, gave it as his opinion that the same man, evidently a maniac, had committed all the murders. The Berner street victim had evidently been dragged back by a handkerchief worn around the throat. An inquest will be held at 11 o'clock Monday morning. Four doctors will be on the jury. The inquest on the Mitre square victim will probably be held on Tuesday.

The Berner street victim was Elizabeth Stride, a native of Stockholm, who resided in a common lodging house. The name of the other victim is not known. In consequence of the Berner street murder, the people of the East End on Saturday petitioned the Queen herself to authorize the granting of a reward.

THE LATEST VICTIMS.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The two women found murdered near the scene of the former murder, in White Chapel, last night, have been recognized as dissolute characters who have long frequented that vicinity. One of them was found in Berner street with her throat cut from ear to ear; the other was discovered lying in Mitre square.

She, like the first mentioned victim, had her throat cut, but in addition she had been disfigured and her nose cut off. The murderer had evidently been disturbed in his work in Berner street, and had no time to mutilate the body of his victim. The discovery of the bodies completely paralyzed the police, and General Sir Charles Warren, chief commissioner, has at once ordered out of bed. He repaired immediately to the scene of the murders and gave orders to have the police force in that district strongly reinforced.

AN UNSOLVED MYSTERY.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The denizens of White Chapel are in a state of terror tonight owing to the horrible butcheries, the fourth of which, it was hoped and quite generally believed would be the last of the ghastly crimes. The police are positively helpless and their best admission of failure to find any clue whatsoever to the perpetrator of the terrible crimes only serves to add to the consternation of the unfortunate creatures whose calling as assassins made them the objects of the public's hatred.

The theories advanced as accounting for the murders and seeking to establish the identity of the murderer is positively bewildering, but none of them is accepted by the police as the correct one, although the Scotland Yard detectives have nothing more plausible to offer for themselves. The absolutely impotent condition of the police in the matter has led them, however,

IN THE WAY OF EVIDENCE WHICH IN ORDINARY cases would be secured by self-imparting burrows for dynamites and divers for parcels of sawcut. The most significant of these is a letter which was received at the office of the Central News company in Oxford street, and was dated on Thursday afternoon. The letter, which is written in a scrawling hand, is familiarly addressed "Dear Boss," and is signed "Jack, the Ripper."

After boasting that he committed all of the White Chapel murders, the writer threatened "if I were not wanted to start it again. The next job I shall do is of the lady's ear and send it to the police. Keep this letter back till I do a bit more work and then give it out to the police straight."

The remarkable feature of the Mitre Square murder is the fact that the case of the woman who was nearly severed, and this circumstance is held to indicate that the real murderer wrote the letter. Most of the newspapers issued special editions to-day, giving copious details of the tragedies and volunteering advice to the police, which they would not wait for the great crowd who visited the scene of the murder to-day and gazed at the blood-stained pavement with a degree of fascination difficult for the police to overcome in their efforts to keep the highways clear. The lodging house, Alway, etc., of the White Chapel district are being secured by the detectives to night.

THE SECOND MURDER.

The first murder occurred in a narrow street (at Berner street) at an early hour this morning beneath the window of the Portuguese Social club. A concert was in progress in the hall, and the noise and music were heard by the victim. The same process had followed as in other cases. The woman had been seized by the throat and her cries choked, and the murderer with one sweeping cut had severed her throat.

A criminal entering the court stumbled over the body, which was lying only two yards from the street. A stream of warm blood was flowing from the body into the gutter. The murderer had evidently been disturbed before he had time to mutilate his victim.

THE SECOND MURDER.

The second murder was committed three quarters of an hour later in Mitre square, five minutes past the scene of the first crime. Policemen patrol the square every ten minutes. The body of the unfortunate woman had been dismembered, and the blood was seen everywhere. The heart and lungs had been thrown aside and the entrails were twisted into the gaping wound.

The incisions show a rough dexterity. The work of dissection was evidently done with the utmost haste. Pending the report of the coroner, the police are endeavoring to secure portions of the viscera were taken away. The doctors after a hasty examination of the body said they thought it must have taken about five minutes to complete the work of the murderer, who then had plenty of time to escape the police. Mitre Square, the scene of the second murder, is a thoroughfare. Many people pass through the square early on Sunday morning on their way to prepare for market in the notorious peacock lane. The publicity of the place adds to the danger of the crime.

Dr. Backwell, who was called to view the remains of the Berner street victim, gave it as his opinion that the same man, evidently a maniac, had committed all the murders. The Berner street victim had evidently been dragged back by a handkerchief worn around the throat. An inquest will be held at 11 o'clock Monday morning. Four doctors will be on the jury. The inquest on the Mitre square victim will probably be held on Tuesday.

The Berner street victim was Elizabeth Stride, a native of Stockholm, who resided in a common lodging house. The name of the other victim is not known. In consequence of the Berner street murder, the people of the East End on Saturday petitioned the Queen herself to authorize the granting of a reward.

ABOUT VEHICLES.

The Construction of the Conveyances of Olden Times--The Materials Used--The Decorations.

The Ancient Chariot Was Sometimes of Sculptured Brilliance and Made Out of Fine Ivory.

But Talmage Speaks of the Clouds, the Celestial Carriage, and the Condemnation Explained.

special to the Gazette.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Sept. 30.—The hymn sung at the opening of the services in the Brooklyn tabernacle this morning was:

WELCOME, sweet day of rest,
That saw the Lord arise.

After expounding appropriate passages of scripture, the Rev. T. W. Talmage, D. D., took the text, Psalm cxxxviii: "Who maketh the clouds His chariot." Dr. Talmage said:

Brutes are constructed so as to look down. Those earthly creatures that have wings when they rise from the earth still look down, and the eagle searches for mice in the grass and the raven for carcases in the field. Man alone is made to look up. To induce him to look up God makes the sky a picture gallery, a Doss-house, a Louvre, a Luxembourg, a Vatican that eclipses all that German or French or Italian art ever accomplished. But God has failed so far to attract the attention of man by the scenery of the sky. We go into raptures over flowers in the soil, but have little or no appreciation of the "morning glories" that bloom on the wall of the sky at sunrise or on the dabbles in the clouds at sunset. We are in ecstasies over the grandeur of a sunset or a sunrise, but we have no appreciation of the grandeur of a sunset or a sunrise.

On July 5 the Emperor wrote to Natalie as follows: "As a result of my inquiries I can't support the opposition which your majesty considers yourself bound to display to the demands of King Milan for the return of the Crown Prince. The King purely avails himself of his rights as a sovereign and father while the Emperor is bound to support his son. I therefore recommend you to place the Crown Prince at the King's disposal."

THE GOVERNMENT CASH BOX.

It is the Largest Construction of the Kind in the World.

Philadelphia Times.

In the dimly-lighted, dingy depths of the north wing of the National Treasury may be seen a weird, weird scene. It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

ABOUT VEHICLES.

The Construction of the Conveyances of Olden Times--The Materials Used--The Decorations.

The Ancient Chariot Was Sometimes of Sculptured Brilliance and Made Out of Fine Ivory.

But Talmage Speaks of the Clouds, the Celestial Carriage, and the Condemnation Explained.

special to the Gazette.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Sept. 30.—The hymn sung at the opening of the services in the Brooklyn tabernacle this morning was:

WELCOME, sweet day of rest,
That saw the Lord arise.

After expounding appropriate passages of scripture, the Rev. T. W. Talmage, D. D., took the text, Psalm cxxxviii: "Who maketh the clouds His chariot." Dr. Talmage said:

Brutes are constructed so as to look down. Those earthly creatures that have wings when they rise from the earth still look down, and the eagle searches for mice in the grass and the raven for carcases in the field. Man alone is made to look up. To induce him to look up God makes the sky a picture gallery, a Doss-house, a Louvre, a Luxembourg, a Vatican that eclipses all that German or French or Italian art ever accomplished. But God has failed so far to attract the attention of man by the scenery of the sky. We go into raptures over flowers in the soil, but have little or no appreciation of the "morning glories" that bloom on the wall of the sky at sunrise or on the dabbles in the clouds at sunset. We are in ecstasies over the grandeur of a sunset or a sunrise, but we have no appreciation of the grandeur of a sunset or a sunrise.

On July 5 the Emperor wrote to Natalie as follows: "As a result of my inquiries I can't support the opposition which your majesty considers yourself bound to display to the demands of King Milan for the return of the Crown Prince. The King purely avails himself of his rights as a sovereign and father while the Emperor is bound to support his son. I therefore recommend you to place the Crown Prince at the King's disposal."

THE GOVERNMENT CASH BOX.

It is the Largest Construction of the Kind in the World.

Philadelphia Times.

In the dimly-lighted, dingy depths of the north wing of the National Treasury may be seen a weird, weird scene. It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

ABOUT VEHICLES.

The Construction of the Conveyances of Olden Times--The Materials Used--The Decorations.

The Ancient Chariot Was Sometimes of Sculptured Brilliance and Made Out of Fine Ivory.

But Talmage Speaks of the Clouds, the Celestial Carriage, and the Condemnation Explained.

special to the Gazette.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Sept. 30.—The hymn sung at the opening of the services in the Brooklyn tabernacle this morning was:

WELCOME, sweet day of rest,
That saw the Lord arise.

After expounding appropriate passages of scripture, the Rev. T. W. Talmage, D. D., took the text, Psalm cxxxviii: "Who maketh the clouds His chariot." Dr. Talmage said:

Brutes are constructed so as to look down. Those earthly creatures that have wings when they rise from the earth still look down, and the eagle searches for mice in the grass and the raven for carcases in the field. Man alone is made to look up. To induce him to look up God makes the sky a picture gallery, a Doss-house, a Louvre, a Luxembourg, a Vatican that eclipses all that German or French or Italian art ever accomplished. But God has failed so far to attract the attention of man by the scenery of the sky. We go into raptures over flowers in the soil, but have little or no appreciation of the "morning glories" that bloom on the wall of the sky at sunrise or on the dabbles in the clouds at sunset. We are in ecstasies over the grandeur of a sunset or a sunrise, but we have no appreciation of the grandeur of a sunset or a sunrise.

On July 5 the Emperor wrote to Natalie as follows: "As a result of my inquiries I can't support the opposition which your majesty considers yourself bound to display to the demands of King Milan for the return of the Crown Prince. The King purely avails himself of his rights as a sovereign and father while the Emperor is bound to support his son. I therefore recommend you to place the Crown Prince at the King's disposal."

THE GOVERNMENT CASH BOX.

It is the Largest Construction of the Kind in the World.

Philadelphia Times.

In the dimly-lighted, dingy depths of the north wing of the National Treasury may be seen a weird, weird scene. It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

ABOUT VEHICLES.

The Construction of the Conveyances of Olden Times--The Materials Used--The Decorations.

The Ancient Chariot Was Sometimes of Sculptured Brilliance and Made Out of Fine Ivory.

But Talmage Speaks of the Clouds, the Celestial Carriage, and the Condemnation Explained.

special to the Gazette.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Sept. 30.—The hymn sung at the opening of the services in the Brooklyn tabernacle this morning was:

WELCOME, sweet day of rest,
That saw the Lord arise.

After expounding appropriate passages of scripture, the Rev. T. W. Talmage, D. D., took the text, Psalm cxxxviii: "Who maketh the clouds His chariot." Dr. Talmage said:

Brutes are constructed so as to look down. Those earthly creatures that have wings when they rise from the earth still look down, and the eagle searches for mice in the grass and the raven for carcases in the field. Man alone is made to look up. To induce him to look up God makes the sky a picture gallery, a Doss-house, a Louvre, a Luxembourg, a Vatican that eclipses all that German or French or Italian art ever accomplished. But God has failed so far to attract the attention of man by the scenery of the sky. We go into raptures over flowers in the soil, but have little or no appreciation of the "morning glories" that bloom on the wall of the sky at sunrise or on the dabbles in the clouds at sunset. We are in ecstasies over the grandeur of a sunset or a sunrise, but we have no appreciation of the grandeur of a sunset or a sunrise.

On July 5 the Emperor wrote to Natalie as follows: "As a result of my inquiries I can't support the opposition which your majesty considers yourself bound to display to the demands of King Milan for the return of the Crown Prince. The King purely avails himself of his rights as a sovereign and father while the Emperor is bound to support his son. I therefore recommend you to place the Crown Prince at the King's disposal."

THE GOVERNMENT CASH BOX.

It is the Largest Construction of the Kind in the World.

Philadelphia Times.

In the dimly-lighted, dingy depths of the north wing of the National Treasury may be seen a weird, weird scene. It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.

It is the largest construction of the kind in the world.